Abstract

An installation wizard is provided having panels that prompt a user to identify a location where a software prerequisite can be found prior to installing the TBI software. The wizard can optionally allow for the inclusion of files via a standard file browse dialog or via a URL. The prerequisite is then fully integrated into the install process so that, from the perspective of the installer, the installation proceeds seamlessly and without interruption.

5

M:\MSimpson\Clients\IBM\24853 USA\Patent Office\RSW920010025US1 SPEC.wpd